

Benjamin Franklin's Almanac Wisdom

Cut out the above picture and place on the front of a envelope pocket. Insert in the pocket the following page bits of wisdom. On the back of the sayings, the student can write out what they think the sayings mean by coping the third page on the back of the second page.

Curiosity killed the cat.	The early bird catches the worm.
Where there's a will, there's a way.	A rolling stone gathers no moss.
A place for everything and everything in its place.	Idleness is the mother of evil.
Birds of a feather flock together.	God helps those who help themselves.
Pretty is as pretty does.	Two wrongs don't make a right.
Never leave that till tomorrow which you can do today.	Little strokes fell great oaks.
A watched pot never boils.	All that glitters is not gold.
A fool and his money are soon parted.	Good comes to those who wait.
Nothing ventured, nothing gained.	Early to bed, early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy, and wise.
