Essay: Answer the following questions as completely as possible.

1. What is the climate and geography like in Greece and how did it effect the ancient civilizations that existed there?
   The mountains and valleys made travel and communication between cities very difficult, and the lack of substantial rivers combined with the moist Mediterranean climate made joint irrigation projects impractical and unnecessary. This encouraged the development of separate and independent cities in Greece.
2. Out of the two largest city-states, Athens and Sparta, which would you have preferred to live in and why if you had been born during this time frame?

Chances are the student would prefer to have lived in Athens where democracy and family life were possible, as well as the development of mind and body were encouraged which meant art and athletics abounded. In Sparta, they would have lived in a military society where the children were taken from their homes at a very young age and trained to be soldiers not unlike a military camp. Both men and women were expected to fight.

3. You are an Athenian during the classical age of Greece. Describe a typical day including your clothing, the foods you eat, your days schedule, your gender, and your class. Answers may vary some depending on the sex of the student, but any study of Greece will easily provide the answers.

4. Which Greek achievement do you feel was the most important to our world and why?
   Answers will vary: Could include Olympics, government, drama, the arts, literature, etc.

5. Who was Alexander the Great and how did he effect Greece’s history?

   Alexander was the Macedonian King who continued what his father, Philip II, had started in conquering the Greek world. He not only conquered the cities with surprising force and quickness, he gained the loyalty of the people he conquered by tolerating their local customs and introducing Greek culture wherever he went. He was the goat in Daniel’s prophecy who shattered and trampled everything in its path.
